Be Part of the Experience

TypeCon2014 is the sixteenth annual conference of The Society of Typographic Aficionados (SOTA), a non-profit cultural organization dedicated to the promotion, study, and support of type design, typography, and the related arts.

As a volunteer-driven grassroots organization, SOTA relies on the generosity of sponsors and partners like you to present TypeCon. Your support is critical to its success and can make a significant difference in the quality and accessibility of the content presented.

TypeCon is an innovative, affordable design event with an international appeal. Although TypeCon is presented exclusively in North America, delegates regularly travel from Europe, Australasia, Asia, and South America. TypeCon attracts a targeted, motivated audience of between 300 and 500 delegates each year. The attendee base is a balanced mix of type designers and distributors, typographers, web and graphic designers, media specialists, software developers, printers, publishers, book artists, calligraphers, writers, historians, educators, students, and those from other fields who have a deep appreciation for type.

TypeCon is regularly featured by high profile design publications and websites and has also been covered by prestigious mainstream media outlets, including The New York Times, Fast Company, and SF Weekly. This kind of exposure helps increase public awareness about type and design and those working in our community.

This summer, TypeCon marches into Washington, DC. The capital features an impressive list of attractions — from powerful monuments and memorials on the National Mall to inspiring cultural treasures like the Smithsonian Institution and National Gallery of Art. It is recognized as a major destination for foodies, and theatre-goers. Centrally located, DC is within driving distance for much of the East Coast, with New York City and Philadelphia just a short train ride away and three major airports servicing the area.

In addition to our organizing partners, we are working with a variety of other educational institutions and cultural organizations from the region and beyond in presenting TypeCon2014.

As a complement to the main program, TypeCon features special events that are designed to attract attention from the press and greater design and cultural communities. The TypeGallery exhibition of world-class type and design will be on display during TypeCon2014. SOTA will present high-profile events that will be open to the public, attracting hundreds of attendees from the community and media and further extending our outreach and marketing efforts.

We promote TypeCon along with our sponsors and partners in print, popular social networks and online media, as well as to schools and professional organizations. Through your sponsorship, we are able to keep admission fees low and continually expand our offerings. TypeCon is famous for its friendly atmosphere, where students and novices mingle with seasoned professionals in a comfortable setting.

Strong alliances are formed during this event. New friends, customers, future employees, and the next big client can all be found at TypeCon. We make sure everyone knows our sponsors make TypeCon possible. Our attendees are loyal and grateful to supporters of their favorite conference. It's the perfect place to put your company in the spotlight.

You will reap great rewards by using your marketing dollars to sponsor TypeCon2014. Your support enables us to make TypeCon a special event that participants will remember for years to come — along with the sponsors who make it possible. Get in on this unique opportunity to make a difference in our community while promoting your business in front of our focused audience.

Please consider becoming a sponsor of TypeCon2014. A variety of sponsorship levels are outlined on the next page. In addition to cash contributions, donations of essential goods and services are welcome. If you're looking for something a little different, contact us to discuss building your custom sponsorship package. We look forward to making TypeCon a fantastic experience for you.

Thanks for your support! See you in Washington, DC.
